O'DELL, DETHRONED, KNOCKS ON VICTORY

Former New York Boss Says Roosevelt Harmed Party in State Election Results

(By Telegraph to The Age)

New York, Nov. 14.—Former Governor B. D. Odell, ex-chairman of the Republican state committee, was questioned here about the recent campaign in New York.

"What do you think of the result of the election?" Mr. Odell was asked. "I would hardly call it a disaster from a Republican standpoint," he replied. "It seems to me it leaves our party in bad shape with an important national campaign coming on. I am greatly concerned over the future. The Republican party is not united as it ought to be."

"What do you think of the influence of the Republican campaign?" "It was the most astute policy I ever knew. As a result we have not elected the head of our ticket. All the rest have been Democrats. There is no reason for this. We might just as well have elected our entire ticket. As things stand it looks very much like a Democratic victory."

"In what particular was the campaign mismanaged?"

"Why, the Republicans made no campaign at all and no canvases. The bulk of the work was put on Mr. Hughes' shoulders. President Roosevelt's interference in the election did more harm than good."

Mr. Odell said that Mr. Hearst was greatly strengthened as a political factor by his campaign and that while he might not be elected president he was now a man to be reckoned with in the future. He said that a combination of Bryan and Hearst would be a hard one for the Republicans to beat. "Believe me," said Mr. Odell, "that with intelligent management the entire Republican state ticket could have been elected."

GIRL ASSAULTS ANOTHER ON STREET

—SHE STEPPED ON HER TRIBLES

Miss Rosa Roof, a young lady of this city, was assaulted on the street, Tuesday evening by Miss Dean Fouch. Miss Roof had been attending only to her own business, when the Fouch girl tried to provoke her to commit a breach of the peace by calling her names and tramping on her feet. It is said, unable to do so, the Fouch girl then struck her and wounded her.

A warrant was sworn out before

Squire Wimmer charging Dean Fouch with the crime and she was arraigned before the squire Wednesday morning. This is the third time in the past few months for the girl to be before the court, and the squire will not pass sentence hastily. The girl claims to be 17 years old but Officer Jackson, who made the arrest is insisting on her age, and the result will have much to do with the sentence imposed. She is detained in the county jail.

Drops Dead In Corn Field

William Syphert Succumbs to Grim Reaper Very Suddenly at Clark

William Syphert, aged 65 years, dropped dead at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon in a cornfield on the farm of Mrs. Marian Crawford two miles west of Clark. His death is attributed to organic heart trouble. He had started out after dinner with William Dickel, with whom he has made his home for many years to husk corn, and they had just reached the cornfield when death overtook him.

Mr. Syphert was born in Coshocton but had lived at Clark about 35 years. He served as a soldier in the civil war. His only immediate relative is Mrs. Adelaide McClellan, who is now residing at Coshocton, he having never been married. He was also an uncle Mrs. Will Williams and was related to the Pocock family here. Dr. Northrup, the Clark physician, was called but life was extinct when he arrived.

Girl Killed by Hunter.
Columbus, Ind., Nov. 13.—Yrtle, the seven-year-old daughter of William Neal, who resides near thirty, was shot and killed near her home by an unknown hunter. The little girl had gone to the rural free delivery box, which is a quarter of a mile from the residence, and was shot in the temple.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lopp of Lakewood are in town today.

SCHOOL BOARD NOT LIKELY LET CITY USE BANCROFT BLDG. AGAIN FOR ELECTIONS

CITY COUNCIL FAVORS W.&L.E.

Will Probably Make New Freight House Possible

The prospects for the new Wheeling & Lake Erie freight station were materially brightened at the regular meeting of council Tuesday evening. The committee composed of Mr. Pharrion, Dr. St. Clair and Dr. Temple, appointed to view the ground which the railroad company asked for and investigate the advisability of turning it over to them reported favorably. Upon motion of Mr. Robertson the city solicitor was directed to prepare a notice that the land is to be vacated and it will receive publication for six weeks after which council will take action on an ordinance which will virtually deed to the Wheeling & Lake Erie the portion of Hickory street they need for their new building.

The council meeting lasted just twenty-seven minutes. All the members were present when President

Council's Session Was Short And Sweet

The new freight depot of the Wheeling looks assured as council orders resolutions prepared for vacation of street end. Gas Co says Chestnut street holes will be repaired as soon as asphalt company can be secured. Recent election expense to city was $61 and the school board declares they will get an additional session of council consumed exactly 27 minutes last night. at $5 for the use of Bancroft building.

Stacey rapped for order at 7:30 except Mr. Lawrence, who however made his appearance a few minutes later. After Clerk Karr had read the minutes of the last meeting, report from the committee were called for. Mr. Temple said that he had talked with Manager Smith, of the Coshocton Gas company, concerning the repairing of Chestnut Street and that Mr. Smith said the concrete work had all been completed and that the asphalt men would be here the first of the month to complete the work. Mr. St. Clair then reported favorably to the Wheeling freight depot matter. Mr. Pharrion was also favorable though he said provision should be made to take care of the gas franchise at hat point. Mr. Robertson said the solicitor had informed him that it wouldn't interfere with any of the franchises. Mr. Temple said he saw no objection to granting the request of the railroad company. Agent Davies said that there were sewer pipes under the ground but he thought no gas or water pipes. He said the railroad company would bear the expense of publishing the notice if the solicitor would draw it up. The next matter to come up was a bill presented by Albert King for the election expenses. The items were: Noah Sturtz, for hauling, $5; rent of six booths, all except the city hall and hose cart building, $25; E. R. Reed, for ballot boxes and mauls, $2.25; John Wagner and Albert King, putting up booths and taking them down, $15; oil and lamp globes, $1.33; J. B. Callahan, tables and chairs, $2.

Divorce Evil Discussed By Big Convention

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Pittsburg, Nov. 11.—Hold-ups on Pittsburg's streets come to light every day. E. H. McMurray, a restaurant keeper, was accosted by two men, but was armed and escaped uninjured. Later the dwelling of Mrs. Sarah Bassett was entered by a burglar. Mrs. Bassett fired a shot at the man as he escaped and he got away. Miss Mary McCauley was attacked and strangled at midnight in the streets. She managed to scream for help and soon several policemen in plain clothes were chasing the assailant. He escaped. Arrests are being made all over the city. The prisoners are taken to the various police stations and "sweated," and while some are held others are let go with a warning. The police are confident they have under arrest the slayer of Harry F. Smith, who was killed in his home by a burglar. Charles Buccini, an Italian, has been identified by a family of three who claimed they saw him in the neighborhood of the Smith home.

AT A CROSSING

Four Men Fatally Injured by a Passenger Train.
New Castle, Pa., Nov. 14.—One man was instantly killed and three were probably fatally injured when a fast eastbound passenger train on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad crashed into a wagon heavily loaded with saw logs on a grade crossing at Edenburg, Pa., six miles west of this city. After colliding with the wagon, the train left the tracks and ran into the Edenburg flouring mill, demolishing the building.

Now Claims Bribery in Findlay Case

[By Telegraph to The Age]
Findlay, O., Nov. 14.—An adjourned session of the grand jury was called here to investigate charges of alleged attempted bribery of a number of members of the jury which sat in the probate court recently during the prosecution of the Standard Oil case. All the members of the jury who sat in the trial of the case in which a verdict was rendered finding the Standard Oil company guilty of the violation of the Valcutt anti-trust law, have been summoned and interrogated by the grand jury. While the utmost secrecy is maintained, Prosecutor David, who conducted the prosecution of the Standard Oil case, is directing the grand jury investigation and stated that all rumors in connection with the alleged attempted bribery would be gone into thoroughly. It is expected that the investigation will be concluded and that the grand jury will make its report late this afternoon.

Gets Ohio Evidence.

Columbus, O., Nov. 14.—Information developed by the prosecutions against the Standard Oil company in Ohio during the past decade will be used in outer suits brought against the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas. J. P. Lightfoot, assistant attorney general of Texas, conferred with members of Attorney General Ellis' office and went over the records of the supreme court. When Mr. Lightfoot left for St. Louis he had in his possession transcripts of the evidence presented and certified copies of the proceedings in all the litigation against the Standard and its constituent companies.

Anna Gould Gets Divorce

Paris, Nov. 14.—Countess de Castellane, formerly Anna Gould, was granted a divorce today and custody of her children, but is not allowed to take the children from France without the Count's consent. The Count's claim for fifty thousand dollars annually, was pronounced by the court as without any foundation in law and was rejected.

California Stand Pat For Separate Schools For Japs

[By Telegraph to The Age]
San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Secretary Metcalf before leaving for Washington confided to a few intimate friends, it is said, that the sentiment of the people of San Francisco, if not the whole state, was opposed to allowing Japanese or Chinese children to mingle freely with Caucasian children in the public schools and that it was likely that the statute providing for Asiatic children to be taught in separate schools would be strengthened at the coming session of the legislature. The secretary said further that it was his opinion as a lawyer that the treaty between the United States and Japan guaranteed to the children of Japanese residing in this country the right to an education in the public schools without discrimination and on an equal footing with the children of the most favored nations, and that he would so report to President Roosevelt.

It was Mr. Metcalf's further opinion that the word "Mongolian," strictly interpreted, meant natives of Mongolia; that the Japanese could not be brought under that designation and that the federal courts would declare the state law unconstitutional.

Story Not Confirmed.

Washington, Nov. 14.—No confirmation of the Victoria report that two Russian converted cruisers had been sunk by a Japanese destroyer in the neighborhood of the Seal Islands can be had at the state department or the Russian and Japanese embassies here. Unofficial reports are to the effect that there has been much friction between the Russian guards patrolling the seal rookeries in the neighborhood of Copper Islands and Japanese seal poachers similar to the friction which has arisen in the case of our own seal islands, and the officials would not be surprised if bloodshed resulted off Copper Island as in the case of the Prybilov islands.

Principles of Anti-Saloon League.

Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—Resolutions adopted by the convention of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League endorse the action of the last general assembly; demand the passage of a county local option law at the next session; endorse the idea of women suffrage in local option elections, and demand the enactment of such a law; commend congress for the appropriation for a temperance post exchange; approve the Littlefield Dooliver measure preventing the shipping of liquors into dry territory, and congratulate Governor Harris for his stand on moral issues, both as lieutenant governor and now as acting governor of the state.

OIL MAN IS FEARFUL OF IT

Ousting of Standard From State Might Hurt This County

"This thing of busting the trusts is all right," said a farmer from the southeastern part of this county whose lands are leased for oil, "but it is getting a little close to home when they talk about throwing out of Ohio the Buckeye Pipe Line Co. and other branches of the Standard. Do you know what that would mean to Coshocton county? Do you know what it would mean to the Osego field? It would just about paralyze it, that's what would happen. There are thousands of dollars invested in independent producers in oil properties in this and Muskingum counties, and many Coshocton men have investments—big ones in relation to the capital these men own. If the Standard is knocked out as the attorney general suggests, there is nothing to prevent them from declining to take our oil. Then we would have to ship it and lose at least five cents a barrel. The price would doubtless drop down.

which would mean further losses for us, not for the Standard for they would still have control. The Standard Oil Co. has done more for the production of oil in Ohio than any other force. Their great pipe line has made cheap production possible. They have spent right here in Coshocton county about $50,000 in their pipe line and stations, etc. Coshocton county is not an oil county now but it is going to be when it is developed. The Standard is not going to develop it; that is for the independent to do, and if oil is found here in paying quantities as I am positive there will be, then the coming of the Standard would than we have ever seen before. Trust busting is all right in theory maybe, but there is a way to control illegal combinations of capital without making the small investor and oil man suffer as this move would do."

The gentleman was much in earnest. Incidentally he is a staunch Democrat so there is nothing political in his argument, as Bryan might suggest.

Tramp Fell Out Of Hay Loft

Frank Gibson, a "hobo" fell from a hay mow in the Thomson feed stables about 1 o'clock this afternoon, and was rendered unconscious for several minutes. Gibson had been sleeping in the mow, and evidently awakened and started to go down to the floor below. He did not see a hole in the floor that was covered by hay, and fell through to the bottom. He struck on his head and it was thought at first his neck was broken. He was taken to Dr. L. C. McCurdy's office, and his injuries attended, which proved to be only a badly bruised face, and a number of teeth knocked out.

If All Men

Were of the same opinion there would be no horse races and, upon first thought, one would think "strife" would be an unknown quantity. But think of all men trying to marry the same woman—all men in the same line of business—all men advertising. Then, as it is now, the race would be won by the best man—the cleverest advertiser. A man who does not advertise is competitor to his neighbor in name only. He is like a man fishing without bait, if he catches anything it is chance only, not premeditated plan and action. The advertising columns of The Age begin with customers for the goods they sell. Are you there with your bid and lure?

"Hurry up that STAR"

No man likes to be without a plug of "Star" in his pocket. There's a generous treat in every bite—a wholesome satisfaction that has made "Star" the standard chew.

STAR

PLUG CHEWING TOBACCO

Just as chewing is the most economical form in which tobacco is used, so "Star" is the most economical chewing. Though the best the market affords "Star" is the cheapest because it is made in full 16 oz. plugs of choice, sweet, best-bodied leaf. It makes a more elastic and lasting chew than the flimsy, tender, light-bodied kinds that "chew up" so quickly.

Increasingly popular for forty years and to-day the standard chew.

But it was not Cecily. It was Tremaine himself who opened to me. "Oh, Mr. Lester," he cried, with hand outstretched, "how are you? I wanted to see you. I've been listening for your step. You must join us here this evening."

"I shall be glad to," I said, returning his clasp, all my suspicious melting away, reduced to absurdity at sight of him. "But why so particularly this evening?"

"Because we've planned a little celebration. Cecily is going away."

"Going away?"

"Yes—back to St. Pierre to get my house in order. But I'll tell you at dinner. It's to be served here in an hour. You will come?"

"Certainly I will," I assured him and hastened over to my room to dress.

He was awaiting me when I knocked an hour later. A table had been set with three places.

"Come in," he said. "Dinner will be here directly. I thought it safer to have the celebration here because—well," and he nodded significantly toward the inner room.

"Cecily?" I questioned.

"Yes. She takes it to heart more than you'd believe, but she'll get over it in a day or two."

"When does she leave?"

"In the morning early, by the first boat. And, by the way, I want you to go down with me to see her off. She'll appreciate it."

"Why, certainly—but isn't it rather sudden?"

"In a way, yes. You see, I've arranged for a committee from New York to go down to Martinique and look over the ground, and I want to take them before they have a chance to cool off. I've got to get my house there in order and engage some servants, for that will be our headquarters, and if Cecily doesn't leave by the boat tomorrow she can't go for ten days. Ten days from now I'm going to have the committee ready to sail, and when I get them to Martinique I'm going to give them a sample of cordial hospitality. I wish you could come," he added warmly. "I'd like to have you."

"There's nothing I'd like better," I said, suddenly conscious of how I had slandered him in my thoughts. "But I fear it isn't possible just now."

"Well, some day I shall have you there, and I warn you I shan't let you go in a hurry. Come in," he added, in response to a knock at the door.

Two waiters entered, and in a moment the dinner was served.

"That will do," said Tremaine, pressing a coin into the hand of each of them. "We'll attend to ourselves. Send up in an hour," he added, as I thought that was best, he added as he closed the door after them. "We can talk freely now."

I stepped to the inner door.

"Cecily," he called.

She appeared in a moment, with eyelids a little puffed and red, but on the whole in much better spirits than I her prophesy had come true. He brimmed her glass with wine. "Drink that," he said, "to our meeting in two weeks."

"To our meeting in two weeks!" she repeated ironically and drained the glass.

But in a few moments the mood passed and she became quite gay. Not till then did it occur to me that Tremaine had made no reference to the tragedy at Edgemore. Then I caught myself just in time, for I remembered suddenly that I was not supposed to know he had been there.

"So you have been successful?" I asked finally.

"Yes, I believe so. I've succeeded in interesting some capitalists. Richard Delroy—perhaps you know him?"

"No; only by reputation."

"He has helped me greatly."

"You got through, then, sooner than you expected?"

"Yes; I thought it would take a week at least. Mr. Delroy had arranged that the conference should take place at his country house near Babylon. We finished the details yesterday, and," he added after the faintest hesitation, "an extremely unfortunate event occurred there last night which made any further stay impossible. I dare say you saw an account of it in the evening papers?"

"Oh, yes; that murder and robbery. The evidence seems to point very strongly toward a young fellow named Drysdale."

"Very strongly," he agreed, nodding with just the right degree of concern. "Although I'm hoping that he may be able to prove himself not guilty. An amiable young fellow—somewhat impulsive and headstrong—but let us not talk about it. It's too unpleasant. This evening we must be gay."

There is no need for me to detail what we did talk about, since it is no way concerns this story, but I had never seen Tremaine to better advantage. He was the unexceptional gentleman, the man of the world who had traveled and asked many things, a brilliant and witty talker—a personality, in a word, on the whole so fascinating and impressive that long before the evening was over I had dismissed as ridiculous my vague suspicions of an hour before. The story that Godfrey and built up was, I reflected, wholly hypothetical, flimsy with the flimsiness which always attaches to circumstantial evidence. I knew how a jury, looking at Tremaine, would laugh at it. No lawyer would risk his reputation with such a case, no magistrate would allow it to proceed before him. Why, for all I knew, Tremaine could prove an alibi for the tragedy in suit fourteen as complete as that which Delroy had offered for him in the Edgemore mystery. Godfrey and I had been forging a chain of sand, imagining it steel. As for that prison photograph, I had been deceived by a chance resemblance.

"The boat starts from pier 57, North river, at the foot of West Twenty-seventh street, at 3 o'clock," were Tremaine's last words to me. "We shall look for you there."

Is there any virtue in dreams, I wonder? That night, while I slept, the tragedy in suit fourteen was re-enacted before me. I witnessed its every detail—I saw Tremaine snatch up the pipe and strike a heavy blow—then, suddenly, behind him, appeared a face dark with passion, a hand shot out, a pistol flashed, even as Tremaine tried to knock it aside, and Cecily looked down upon her victim with eyes of blazing hatred!

Most trading steamers which wish to study economy and effect have their aft mast painted black. If they did not the mast would soon be sullied by smoke and would look very dirty in consequence. Farmers Learn To Advertise

Iowa Agriculturalists Make Good Thing by Using Columns of County Press.

One of the many changes in the methods of doing business is noticed by every newspaper publisher who keeps careful track of his income. One of the remarkable things about the News' business from last year is the money received from advertising from the farmers. Turning to the books for 1935, we are able to trace, in all, or no money from the farm in the advertising receipts, but in late years, notably the last two, the farm advertising amounts to quite a considerable percent of the total business. Farm methods are changing. Business methods on the farm are changing too. Farmers are advertising what they have to sell. They employ the local papers like the News as a considerable part of whose subscription lists go to the farms.

"Many farmers do not realize the value of them of advertising," said L. Baker in the News office Saturday. "They have not learned from experience the value of it. I had a piece of land to rent, and I paid the News a dollar for an advertisement for the lease or rent of the land. The News came out Thursday. I had one applicant by telephone that night. Friday I had two and Saturday I had two more. Tuesday I had another and rented one land to him. I had the pick of a lot of tenants and got one of the best young men in the county on my farm."

"I sold 200 worth of hogs with a fifty cent advertisement in the News," said a hog breeder recently. "I have another advertisement for you, and I am going to try a half-day advertisement. The home market is the best."

The News only prints these suggestions to the farmers or the county in the way of news. It has also a selfish business interest in them. Talk to men who advertise their sales and their stock and their land to rent and sell and see what they say. The business man who does not talk to the public these days soon fails. The farmer who has anything else to sell than stock or grain fails to get all he can from his business when he does not advertise—Winterstet (La.) News.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man. If physicians can find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Splanzer, Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Sells Laboratories, from this combination and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfactory.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

Cure For The Blues
ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED
Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained.

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: "She has been feeling 'out of sorts' for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her periods she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-around feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

The statement that he was the representative poet of the nineteenth century provoked an interesting discussion.

The low prices at which everything is sold makes them doubly desirable to many purchasers who are thronging the room. Mrs. Lillian Dillin left this afternoon for Pleasant Hill, where she will open a revival meeting this evening. Rev. Dillin will join her Thursday and a series of revival meetings will be held at the Pleasant Hill church in Carroll county.

COULD WE LIVE 100 YEARS?

The Secret of Long Life is Not in How We Eat, But What We Eat.

Most people wouldn't want to exist for that length of time, but most of us want to live to, say, at least seventy-five years, to enjoy the well earned rest of a life of toil.

We can't live even to that age unless we take care of our stomachs.

The American has a longer life now than he had 50 years ago—statisticians say so, and it must be true.

Why is it? Not because he works harder, but because he takes greater care of his machine—his body machine.

He has learned that it is a sin to overwork and burn out, the stomach with too much heat-producing material—meat, for instance.

Heat is not strength, it is weakness. Muscle and bone is the strength we need. The heat part will then come naturally and never in excess. Let us not hunt for it.

The hot stomach makes the brain hot.

The hot brain makes dullards of the quick.

Wheat?

The purest wheat, the wheat with the starch, the albumen and the fibrin! This is the fighting material millions are buying today.

Wheat grains have a shell. The shell is not good to eat. You cannot digest it.

It makes the stomach work overtime. Buy the purified wheat, the pearly grain from which the chaff, the hull and the husk, and everything not rich and delicious is thrown out.

That is Hardyfood.

Every part of it is consumed by the body and taken into the blood to make tissue.

It doesn't make clinkers but it will make you over.

It will give you a new stomach, and clear out your kidneys. What will be the result? You will have better digestion, no constipation, full nutrition.

You will endure hardship better because it will give you power and strength in muscle and brain force.

Your mind will be clear, active and healthy.

Hardyfood is cooked, ready to serve.

Eat it with cream, you find it delicious.

The stomach grabs at it, that is why it satisfies you.

Remember that Hardyfood has all the good that meat has, and three times more.

Meat has a small part of what wheat has, and three times less.

But you needn't stop eating meat altogether. A little now and then is useful. But cut down your allowance and try Hardyfood.

From the time you try your first package of Hardyfood, your history will begin.

Your grocer will sell you a package for 10 cents.

Miss Holland Entertains.
Miss Nan Holland entertains this evening at her home on Chestnut street.

Supper Party.

For their sister, Miss Bernice Snyder, who sings one of the leading roles in the play of Spice tonight, Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Snyder will entertain a few of their friends with a supper at the theatre at their home in the Tickle Place. The supper will be preceded by a box party at the theatre.

Trip Over the Hills.

The ladies of district two of the U. B. church have arrangements completed for their "trip over the hills" Thursday evening and ask all their friends to join them. The start will be made from the home of Mrs. Samuel Baker.

Where They Are Stopping.

Miss Virginia McLaughlin, of Mansfield, deputy president of the W. R. C., and Miss Sadie Chapman, of Columbus, deputy 1st officer, are stopping with Mrs. Rose Hatch on Eighth street during the W. R. C. district convention. Mrs. Caroline Roberts, of Lancaster, assistant inspector, is stopping with Mrs. Flora Love, on East Chestnut street. Mrs. Mary P. Scott and Mrs. Chase, of Mt. Vernon, are guests of Mrs. I. T. Smith, on Fourth street.

Try to Hold Patton Estate

Columbus, Nov. 14.—Governor Harris' action in placing B. W. Baldwin, of Ashtabula, in the state board of public works is said to be based upon developments that are being made by Wheeler C. Wickoff who as a special examiner for the state auditor, acting under a law of last winter is making a thorough examination of the board's books.

For many years they have not agreed with the state auditor's books, but because of lack of authority the state auditor has never been able to tell why.

The only finding of what Mr. Wickoff is finding in his work is the statement that Wm. Patton, formerly collector at Coshocton—now dead, is short $350 in his account. This comes out in an attempt to give his estate help for the deficit.

There are also rumblings of a deal in the granting of a contract for 21 locks in Akron, S. W. Parrshall, whose bid was far below the others getting only part of the work. The board it is said doubted his reliability, and though he furnished ample bond and has finished the work given him properly and promptly, he got only a small part of it.

Arrange Games.

The first two basketball games of the season to be scheduled are with the strong Canton high school team. Manager Porter signed a contract Monday evening, and the first game will be played at Canton Nov. 28. The second one will be played in this city later and the city hall will probably be the battle ground.

Captain Rodgers is trying to secure the services of Charles Deaman, last year's star, for reference, as he knows all the points of the game. Williams, will not be in the team, on account of football the next day. Rodgers and Hart, two of the team's best men, will play if they do some hard study from now on until time for the game.

The probable line up of the team in the first game will be as follows: Rodgers R; Hugh H; W. Wells C; Porter R; Rodehaver Rg.

All Released on Bond.

Kansas City, Nov. 11.—Davis H. Kresky, a freight broker, and W. A. McGowan, of the Nickel Plate fast freight line, indicted here charged with conspiracy to violate the interstate commerce act, and Henry S. Hartley, a grain dealer, indicted on charge of accepting rebates on freight shipments, were arrested and arraigned before Judge Garland in the United States district court. They were released on bond. Kresky and McGowan are liable to a fine of from $1000 to $10,000 and imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term not exceeding two years or both. Hartley is liable to a fine of from $1000 to $2000.

SCORES OF HUNTERS ARE READY TO GO FORTH

The quail and rabbit season opens tomorrow and there will be a general exodus of Coshocton hunters to the fields and forests of this county. The desire to hunt seems to be unusually strong this year and the stroke of twelve tonight will sound the death knell for many a cottontail and Bob White. The game warden in today's Age issues a warning to hunters to be very careful about hunting on premises without permission.

Tonight Joe and Tom Robson and Russell Kennedy will don their hunting togs and journey to the Chillicothe woods for a two days' ramble. "Bud" Johnston and Mai McConnell will start out in the morning for the latter's home place west of Keene. Tom Roberts expects to get an early start but hasn't finally decided where he will strike for. Clarence Hay and Don Raymond will spend the opening days of the season on the McVea farm at Washington. Officers Ed. Tompkins and Mike Gordon and Marlin Carroll will start out tomorrow morning on just what territory they will patrol has not been announced.

J. C. Klein, proprietor of the Star Ten hotel and Peter Zerle will scour the hills and valleys near Haver, Roschewitz, Shooter, James Hixon, Jos. Bixler and Dr. Staerz have planned to invade the hills from the above level. Frank Klein will hunt up at George Mountain and will take his wife along for a visit there. Of course there are many others there being only a few picked up by an eye reporter on his rounds.

Will Valentine, proprietor of the Avon Kennels north of Coshocton, states that game is more plentiful than it has been since the freeze-out two years ago. More game was liberated at the Avon Kennels last year than in all the rest of the state put together and this game has scattered all over the county now. "If the legislators hadn't talked of prohibiting quail shooting for three years, we would have liberated just twice as much," said Mr. Valentine. Mr. Valentine expresses thanks to the sensible sportsmen of Coshocton who have been careful not to infringe upon the rights of those who have leased the kennels and is willing to return the favors shown him. He expects to confine his hunting to so much as will suffice to train the dogs in his care and will not attempt to make any wholesale slaughter, as some who claim to be sportsmen do.

He expects Hon. Judge Kennedy one of Pittsburg's millionaires, here early in the season. Judge Kennedy although up in the seventies, love to climb over the hills like a boy. He has two dogs in Mr. Valentine's care.

WARNING TO HUNTERS.

Sec. 20 R. S. reads "It shall be unlawful to hunt or trap upon the lands ponds, lakes or private waters of another without first obtaining written permission from the owner."
